Product description

The grille located in the center of the bumper for the Porsche Macan model 95B (years 2014-2024) is an indispensable component for vehicles equipped with a parking assistance system. Designed specifically for the GTS, Turbo, and Sport Design models, this grille not only enhances the aesthetic appearance of the vehicle but also protects vital components located behind it, such as the radiator and the parking assistance sensors.

The OEM number for this genuine Porsche part is 95B807683BGOK1. This product is new, unused, and undamaged, supplied directly by Porsche as an original part. Using genuine parts ensures a perfect fit and maintains the vehicle's warranty. Constructed from high-quality materials, the grille offers longevity and resistance to environmental factors such as UV radiation and moisture. The installation process is straightforward and direct, as the grille is specifically designed for the corresponding bumper of the Macan. In summary, the center grille for the bumper is an excellent choice for owners of a Porsche Macan GTS, Turbo, or Sport Design who value functionality and authenticity. It not only improves the visual appeal of your vehicle but also helps protect and maintain critical features like the parking assistance system.
